BUBBY BRISTER LAUNCHES BUBBYBRISTER.COM

15 year NFL veteran launches website to promote quarterback camps and training

MANDEVILLE, LA – Louisiana native and former NFL Quarterback, Bubby Brister, is pleased to announce the official launch of www.bubbybrister.com. The website was designed to promote his one-on-one private training for youth quarterbacks ages 8-18, and to announce his newly formed football summer camps for youth quarterbacks and skill players of the same age.

“I’m excited about the opportunity to give something back to the youth football players much in the same manner that was presented to me when I was growing up. I had the chance to learn from some of Louisiana’s great NFL quarterbacks like Terry Bradshaw and Joe Ferguson. I’ve had some success training several youth quarterbacks in Louisiana and I felt like it was the right time to take this to the next level.”

The website has information on how to sign up for individual training and how to register for the camps scheduled to run annually in June, July and August. Camps will be held along the Gulf Coast primarily in Louisiana and Mississippi, with camps tentatively scheduled in Denver and Pittsburgh, cities where Brister played during his career. “I played my first seven years in the NFL for the Pittsburgh Steelers and their fans are some of the best. I was also fortunate enough to play for the Denver Broncos on two Super Bowl winning teams in 1997 and 1998. I feel very blessed to have played in the NFL for 15 years. I attribute my longevity to sticking to the football fundamentals and principles which are the foundation for what I teach in my quarterback training and at my football camps.”
